

IGNITE YOUR TRUST FACTOR

Rebuilding Our Ability to Lead, Empower, and a Build High-performance Culture

Trust, a critical factor in building resilient organizations, is often assumed to be present until performance lags, working relationships become difficult, or a crisis occurs.

Research shows that trust has been eroding in organizations for many years. Yet, rarely has our trust been tested more, and on so many levels, as it has during 2020. The lack of trust creates poor communication and misinformation, unnecessary risk taking, and reduced employee engagement.

Evoloshen's Ignite your Trust Factor leadership training program will help you strengthen your leadership team, empower your managers and supervisors, and help to build an even more resilient and high-performance culture.

This program, currently available in a fully online format over six weeks, is for:

INDIVIDUAL PARTICIPANTS

Who want to understand the neuroscience behind how the brain works, in order to change their impact on others.

TEAMS LEADERS

Who want to influence more positive outcomes through increased trust and improved communications.

EXECUTIVES AND ORGANIZATIONAL LEADERS

Who want to have a better understanding of key motivators and behaviors that increase trust, improve engagement, and build a high performance culture.

ORGANIZATION-WIDE

For businesses who want to ensure that their employees engage in quality conversations with their colleagues and create a foundation for large scale collaboration and trust.

Learning Modules include:

- Neuroscience and the impact on behavior of 'self as leader' and others
- How to use conversation to build trust
- Establishing a foundation of trust
- Using Conversational Intelligence (C-IQ®) and increase collaboration within your culture
- How to use trust as a business- and brand-building strategy

Although this was the company's first online training program, I was amazed at how powerful the experience was for employees – even for those who felt this experience was outside their comfort zone.

I would recommend this leadership training because you get a lot of good tools to work with that you can practice everyday to do a better job.

PETER NELANDER, Head of Aftonbladet PLUS

I think businesses embarking on a “change culture” journey would benefit from the understanding of the foundation of trust. I enjoyed learning the different frameworks for communication and getting an understanding of the neuroscience of behavior.

I enjoyed the training very much and give it a 9 out of 10! It's good to hear and learn how one's behavior influences others. The online platform and delivery worked very nicely as well!

ANNA-MARI PROSCH, Sales Manager, Sogeti

All sessions were great! Enjoyed interacting with new people and closing the gaps... Karin's energy is awesome!
